

To Lynn & Steve,

Apologies to add another email to what I can only imagine has been a very stressful and trying period, but I felt a strong need to send a quick message to you both.

We got married in the gold room and had our reception in the marquee on 15th October 2005 and learnt of the terrible news from friends and family whilst at a wedding in Ireland at the weekend.

You, your staff and your establishment were utterly amazing before, during and after our wedding day, and I would recommend your services to anyone I spoke to.

My husband and I were deeply sadden and numb to hear the news of the fire. As you have already said this fantastic venue will not be lost in history, and will be forever in our hearts and of many others.

The fantastic team you have built, will get through this and come back stronger and more successful than ever before, and we will look forward to paying a visit to witness this in the near future.
